I joined the DMO last November – it's a new position focused on looking after the DM's communication needs, some stakeholder engagement and management and whatever else they need – including OIC appointments. Marla is still here...

I feel very lucky to be here – it's eternally interesting!

Good morning,

Kevin Costante, Deputy Minister of Education, is interested in locating photographs of previous Deputy Ministers of Education and displaying them in the Deputy Minister’s Boardroom at 900 Bay St., Toronto.

We have had some trouble locating photos of appropriate resolution to print and frame, and so I’m writing to day to see, if you are agreeable, if you are able to supply us with a high-resolution file (or negative) for that purpose?

Thank you for your consideration of our request,

Beth

Hey George – was great to spend some time together in Israel and to meet (S:2f) Without wanting to put you on the spot in any way, or to require any response from you, it did occur to me that there are a few ways in which I might be able to be helpful to you. If so, I hope you will call on me.

Possibilities include:

- doing some seminars for ministry staff on my current work or my international work to give people new perspectives on these things;
- coaching;
- helping to think through better use of ministry data. I think there is huge potential in on sis that is not currently being well used;
- assisting with communicating the Ontario story. As you saw in Israel, we have a great story, but it is not well enough known or understood especially among stakeholders or the public in Ontario. Michael and I already do some of this work, but there may be opportunities to do more of it more collaboratively.

These are not intended to be exhaustive. I am happy to be helpful in whatever ways you think useful. Just some ideas for you to consider. And as I said, no response to this is required at all; you can just file it away for future reference.

Best wishes for much success in your role (and in your life).

Hello Michael and Ben –

Deputy Zegarac has asked me to check with you to see if you would be able to attend our Executive Leadership Team (all ADMs and direct reports to the DM) on August 8th. It is an all-day event but likely it would only be for 2 – 3 hours that we would like to have you join us.

Please let me know if that date works for you.

Thanks,

This document seems pretty useless to me. It's the same old stuff without a single specific proposal as to how any of it could occur. The list of skills is OK, but many others exist; the Conference Board was saying more or less the same thing 20 years ago. The US NRC report is much better, much more useful. I do agree with the 3 points in Michael's e-mail but think we also need some process to build consensus on these.

Hi both. As you know, Allan Luke will be in Toronto week of March 18 (and is doing some things with the Ministry). Last time he was here he met with Minister Wynne. I’m wondering if you think Minister Sandals (and/or some of her policy staff) would want to meet with Allan at some point – he has some time in his sched. George – don’t know if you might like/can manage an informal chat with Allan at some point?

Subject: Update

Hi all. Yesterday Fullan, Andy Hargreaves and I did a full day session with about 400 SOs and principals as part of the OPSOA conference – thought I would give you a quick ‘intel’ on it.

- Overall mood was pretty good, still lots of good feeling about what we have been doing.
- We stressed the importance of boards/schools continuing to move ahead on a positive agenda – continuing commitment to good outcomes and equity, not necessarily waiting for the province and trying not to be distracted from that agenda. We challenged their associations to take on a stronger, positive leadership role, either individually or collectively. For example Michael suggested they could work together on developing some new measures of ‘wellness’.
- Clear to me that people are really wanting to hear a positive sense of direction from the province. Past year has been very tough for school and district leaders. While issues remain, people really want to be reminded of the ideals and motivated to keep going in positive ways. (My own view is that there is a huge desire and potential benefit from province getting out on a positive educational agenda – before the end of the school year – does not have to be detailed, just to set out some of the main lines and get people thinking in the right way again).

Hope this is helpful.
